

Remarks/Arguments:

Webster teaches storing responses in a database and displaying information to an individual. Wynn teaches using an electronic time clock in which a card or badge must be fed into a card reader to make time keeping entries. Skinner teaches a method and system for monitoring computer usage. Collectively, the references do not seem to show what is required by the claims.

None of the references solely or jointly with the others, teach a web based punch clock as is taught and claimed by the present Applicant.

Please direct any questions or comments to the undersigned attorney regarding the Notice of Allowance in this case.
